1. Which of these are design elements? Select all that apply.

1 / 1 point

☒ Negative space

✔ Correct

Correct! Negative space is the "space in between" or the area between or around other elements that form their shape.

☐ Width

☒ Depth

✔ Correct

Correct! Depth is an essential and exciting principle. You can create a sense of depth and the illusion that your design extends beyond the second dimension, even with the flattest of mediums.

☒ Lines

✔ Correct

Correct! Lines are any linear marks, so if you think about it, lines include nearly everything. They even include the words and letters you are reading that consist of thousands of curved, angled and straight lines.

2. "Overlapping" refers to the overall arrangement of elements in your design.

1 / 1 point

☒ False

☐ True

✔ Correct

Correct! "Composition" refers to the overall arrangement of elements in your design. Overlapping in a composition is how all the elements overlap to create the illusion of a third dimension.

3. Mood boards are graphic panels that combine different sensory sources to create a dynamic environment that acts as a guide for creative decisions.

1 / 1 point

☒ True

☐ False

✔ Correct

Correct! Mood boards are graphic panels that combine different sensory sources to create a dynamic environment that acts as a guide for creative decisions.

4. Select all the different types of Mood boards.

1 / 1 point

☒ Physical

☒ Correct

Correct! A physical mood board allows you to dig deeper into objects like paints, fabrics, papers, metals, perfumes and organic materials like plants. In other words, some elements are associated with touch or smell.

☐ Empirical

☒ Digital

☒ Correct
